Nickel-plated metal.

A true GARRIDO classic, the Quartz Low Table Set is inspired by the physical properties of the natural stone formations found in nature. Executed in the combination of hand-embossed and hand-polished nickel-plated metal, the set oozes ultra-modern aesthetic. Mimicking the interlocking nature of the quartz stone segments, this table set has been designed in 3 parts, which when placed together merge into one formation. The Quartz Set's composition of the three table parts allows for greater functionality, allowing for the segments to be placed around the interior as three separate entities, or being assembled as an interlocking set of three or two tables, creating one large piece of art-furniture.
